

ARTS IN EDUCATION

Fall 2019

Spirit of America

September 11. This musical presentation celebrates patriotism and the music associated with it. All grades.

Chalk Artist

September 12. Sidewalk chalk artist David Zinn will spend the day creating art while students observe and interact with him. Keep your fingers crossed for good weather! All grades.

For more information watch this 3-minute video: **David Zinn: Chalk Art Brought to Life**

Mr. Zinn's Batesville visit will conclude with an AIE Evening Series program, Friday, September 13th from 4:30 – 6:30, where he will do some public chalk drawings on sidewalks on George and Main Streets, in the vicinity of Amack's Well.

A Trio of Talent

Students will have the opportunity to see three award-winning children's book author/illustrators who will be at BIS on 9/26 & 9/27. Susan Stevens Crummel, Janet Stevens, and Dorothy Donohue will be in Batesville the week of Sept. 24-27. They will also go to BPS & SLS.

The opportunity for our students to get the creative perspective from both the author and the illustrator on how the same picture book is created is a unique experience! In this case, they will see the works of author Susan and illustrator Janet AND Susan with Dorothy.

Students are invited to order books prior to the visit. See attached order form for details. The due date is 9/10/19.

Save the date! Join us for a free Family Night event "How to become a family of good readers" with all three artists on Thursday, Sept. 26 from 6:30-7:30 PM in the BIS cafeteria.

Books will be available for purchase. Stay after to have your book signed and get a photo with the artist(s). Everyone is invited!

Gifts From the Earth: Native American Effigy Pottery

November 4 & 5 - Robin Scott McBride returns to BIS to work with 5th graders to create clay effigy pots as part of the fifth grade's Native American unit of study. 5th grade only.

Energy Endgame

October 10 - Duke Energy & The National Theatre for Children team up to offer annual energy-themed performances for our students. These free 25-minute shows complement curriculum AND the school can earn money when you sign up for My Energy Kits! To request one go to <https://www.myenergykit.org/> Even if you are not a Duke customer or signed up recently our school still gets credit when you request a kit. We can earn as much as $2,500!

Playhouse in the Park Returns

Cincinnati Playhouse in the Park extended workshops will be held for all grades. Each classroom will have five 45-minute sessions:

3rd grade – The BFG by Roald Dahl the week of Oct. 21-25

4th grade – Because of Winn Dixie by Kate DiCamillo the week of Oct. 28- Nov. 1

5th grade – Public Speaking: Great Speeches by Great Speakers the week of Nov. 4-8

Arts in Education

AIE programs are generously supported by the Batesville Area Arts Council (BAAC), the Rockwood Foundation, the VISION Fund, and the BIS PTO. Thank you from all of us at BIS!

Arts in Education Evening Series

The BAAC also sponsors an AIE Evening Series, which are programs designed to bring a snapshot of the talent our students get during the school day in an evening format available to our entire community.

Upcoming free events:

♦ September 13 - Illustrator & street chalk artist David Zinn from 4:30 - 6:30 PM in downtown Batesville.

♦ September 26 - Authors/Illustrators Susan Crummel, Janet Stevens & Dorothy Donohue from 6:30-7:30 PM at BIS

Before you place an order, you might check your bookshelves! Susan Stevens Crummel was here in 2009 and Dorothy Donohue was here in 2010, and we sold over 300 copies of their books between the two of them. Of course, you are welcome to order as many books as you want, but I do want you to be aware that you may already have copies of these books, either from the earlier visits or your own purchases because so many of the books are bestsellers and award winners. Chris Fairchild from The Bookshelf is kindly offering a 20% discount to us.

We are offering thirteen selections for presale, but please know that there are additional books written/illustrated by all three artists. The Bookshelf will have many of these available at the store and at our “Trio of Talent” Family Night on Thursday, September 26, 2019. More info to come about the free community night event!
